

Lenroot, Man Who Might Have Been President Is Dead

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—Former Senator Irvine L. Lenroot of Wisconsin, the man who might have been the 29th president of the United States, died last night.

A quick of politics denied him a spot in history as an American president. Powerful in Republican party circles in the 1920s, he was picked by G. O. P. leaders as a vice-presidential running mate for Warren G. Harding.

That's usually enough to win nomination, but tired delegates to the 1920 national convention bucked their leaders and swung to Calvin Coolidge.

Coolidge became president when Harding died three years after the election.

Lenroot, who would have been 80 years old next Monday, died at his home here after a two-month illness. Funeral services have been set tentatively for Friday. Burial will be in Superior, Wis.

He is survived by his widow, the former Eleanor Von Eltz whom he married in 1943, and a daughter, Katherine F. Lenroot, chief of the Children's Bureau of the Social Security Administration.

Lenroot's first wife, the former Clara Clough of Superior, the mother of Miss Lenroot, died several years ago.

The former senator retired to private life in 1927 and two years later became a judge of the United States Court of Custom and Patent Appeals here.

His life story followed the Horatio Alger pattern:

He was born in Superior in 1869, the fourth of six children of Lars and Fredricka Lenroot, natives of Sweden. At 14 he was a grocer's clerk. He had no formal education.

Eager to become an attorney, he studied law while earning his living as a stenographer in a law office and later as a court reporter. After gaining admission to the bar, he practiced law in his home town until he became so active in politics that it took all his time.

For 25 years he was active in Wisconsin politics. He entered the national picture in 1918 when he was elected to the senate to succeed Paul Hastings, who was killed in a hunting accident.

Lenroot served for almost a decade in the senate, becoming acknowledged leader of the Republican party during the administration of President Coolidge.

He was defeated for re-election in 1926 and retired to public life the following year. Later he was given the life post as judge of the U. S. Court of Custom and Patent Appeals.

During much of his 35 years in public life, he was closely associated with the late Robert M. La Follette. They broke when La Follette opposed the government's attitude in World War I.

Senate May Vote To Kill Boat Taxes

Lansing, Jan. 27 (AP)—Armed with an adverse report from the state revenue department, three senators today sought to kill the 1947 watercraft tax.

The senators, Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids), John B. Marjyn (R-Grand Rapids) and William C. Vandenberg (R-Holland) introduced a bill to repeal the tax, including the 1911 steamboat tax. Vandenberg said something might be done, however, to retain the steamboat levy later.

Revenue from the tax, reaching about $91,000 last year, goes to the State Waterways commission for the construction of small-boat harbors of refuge.

Vandenberg said he was impressed by small boat owners' objections to the law and to the revenue department report.

The department "any law which results in bad public relations with the taxpayers will always be difficult to enforce. It is also true that the water craft tax is by far the most expensive tax being collected by this department. Over 10 per cent of the total receipts have been expended in its administration."

The department described the tax as "one of the most controversial ever adopted in Michigan," and "has created violent opposition on the part of many boat owners."

"Representatives of this department have been threatened with personal violence in their attempt to enforce this law, and during the summer of 1948, the department was required to utilize the services of a large percentage of its field force during two weeks to compel observance of the statute."

The tax is levied on most boats of 16 feet and over.

Labor Government Of Britain Wins In Foreign Policy Test

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

London, Jan. 27 (AP)—Britain's labor government won a vote of confidence on the Palestine question by the margin of 90 votes in its first major foreign policy test in parliament.

Criticized on all sides, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's policy was approved by the House of Commons by 283 to 193 last night after a sharp debate of seven hours. The vote was on a conservative motion not to adjourn and came after Prime Minister Attlee declared the question was one of "confidence in the government."

The issue brought the first break in the previously solid labor-conservative lineup on international questions and the defection of a big bloc of laborites. The government's majority was the smallest on a major issue since it came into power in 1945.

Closing the debate, Attlee told the House Britain "accepted in principle" the recognition of Israel. He said she was waiting to announce the action until she has consulted the dominions and her Brussels allies.

Communists at Bottom

The Israeli government, which Britain refused to recognize for more than eight months, appeared likely to be little changed as a result of election of a 120-member constituent assembly in the Jewish state.

With about 60 per cent of the votes counted from Tuesday's election, the labor party (Mapai) of Premier David Ben-Gurion was emerging head and shoulders above all others with nearly 35 per cent of the vote.

The religious bloc of orthodox parties was second with 13 per cent, and the left-wing labor party (Mapam) had 12 per cent.

Trailing in fourth place was the freedom movement, the right-wing party which Menachem Beigin forged out of Irgun Zvai Leumi, the underground striking force which hanged two British sergeants before the end of the mandate and embittered many British. Beigin's party had 11 per cent.

Communists were near the end of the parade with 3.5 per cent.

Air Force Expansion Bill Gets Approval

House Favors 70 Groups, Truman Asks 48

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—A bill to allow the air force 70 combat groups headed for almost certain approval by the House armed services committee, despite the 48-group ceiling asked by President Truman.

The measure also would set the army's size by law.

The first witnesses called were Secretary of the Army Royal and Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff, on deck for Friday were Air Secretary Symington and the air force chief of staff, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg.

The House group appeared ready to approve the bill promptly. Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said nobody has asked to testify against it.

The bill would give the army 837,000 officers and men, not including one-year volunteers under the draft law, officer candidates, and reserves on temporary active duty. These would be divided into 12 regular army divisions and five combat teams.

The air force would have an active strength of 75,300 officers and 426,700 enlisted personnel. These would not include one-year trainees, aviation cadets, or reserves on active duty for training.

The present administration of the highway department is not taking full advantage of the funds available to put Michigan back in the lead in state highway development," McCarthy said.

"During the postwar period, Michigan has dropped from a leading position to nearly half way down the list of states in the federal bureau of public roads ratings."

Legislators Sift Sales Tax Dodging

Lansing, Jan. 27 (AP)—A legislative investigation of sales tax collections was due to get under way next week following appointment of House members to the committee.

Speaker Victor A. Knox yesterday named four representatives to join four senators already appointed.

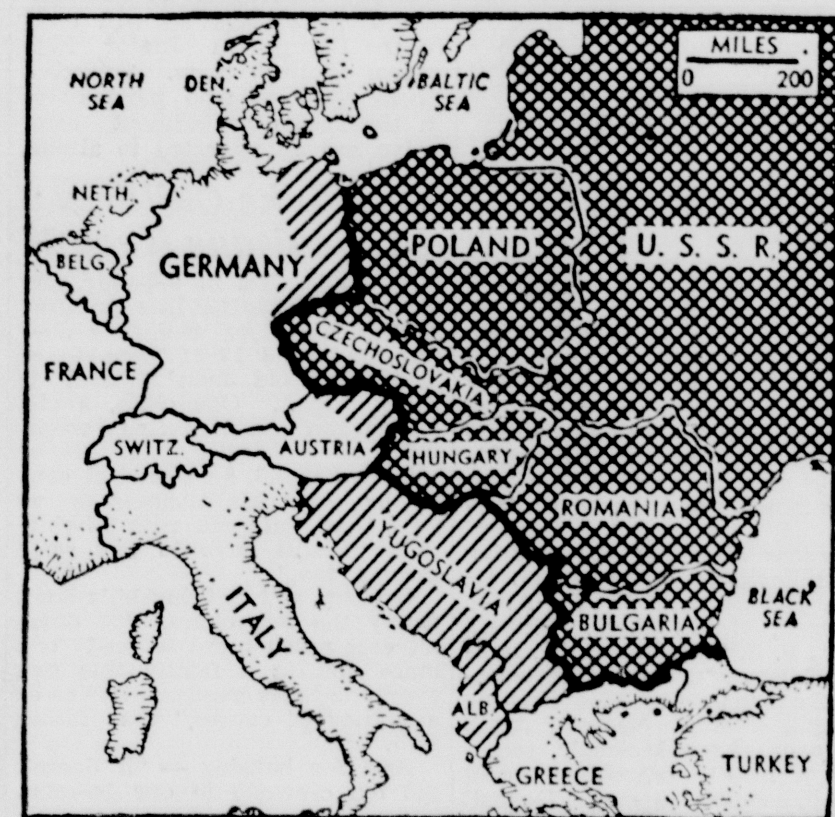

Senator George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), chairman and prime mover of the committee, said it would meet Tuesday to organize. Present plans, he said, called for the committee's conferring with recorder's Judge W. Mc Kay Skillman in Detroit Wednesday.

Judge Skillman conducted a grand jury to inquire into Wayne county tax collections.

Peace Prospects Dimmed for China

Nanking, Jan. 27 (AP)—Prospects of peace in China dimmed today. Both Nationalists and Communists accused each other of stalling.

The Nationalists were reported reliably to be bolstering a new defense line below the Yangtze valley.

The great commercial city of Shanghai and Nanking would be sacrificed, this source said, so that National troops, likely back under Chiang Kai-shek's wing, could fight on.

Added to the general confusion were indications of dissension in the government of Acting President Li Tsung-jen. He assertedly wanted to keep the government here. But the cabinet, which he may not be able to control, has ordered it moved to Canton.

Whatever the course of peace negotiations, there was little fighting anywhere today. One report said the Communists might shell the northern section of Nanking soon, but no shells had landed there.

In the south, behind the new national defense line stretching from Hangchow southwestward to Nanchang and thence northward to Wuchang, lay a much larger portion of China than Kai-shek held at the end of the war with Japan.

Marooned Navajos Get Food By Plane

Fliers Come To Relief Of Arizona Indians

Window Rock, Ariz., Jan. 27 (AP)—The Air Force came to the relief of the Navajo Indians today.

Summoned to the reservation by a report that 15 persons were missing in the six-foot snow, five Air Force planes planned today to drop supplies and livestock feed in the remote Navajo Mountain region.

The planes were sent to Winslow at the request of James M. Stewart, Navajo superintendent. Later reports from Tuba City, Ariz., however, indicated no one had been reported there as missing.

Walter Gray, acting district supervisor, said the Indian office in Washington, D. C., had arranged for Army planes to fly food into the snowbound areas as soon as the weather clears.

Gray and Trader Ed Kerley, both located at Tuba City, 80 miles south of Navajo Mountain, said most of the estimated 2,500 Navajos in the area will stay with their sheep. They said the Indians are in no danger, being well stocked with food.

Navajo Mountain is 160 miles north of Flagstaff. A caravan of 10 food trucks, two Army surplus winch trucks and a bulldozer was to set out today for the Navajo Mountain region from Tuba City. The planes standing by are a B-25 bomber, two C-47s transports and two C-48s.

Home Fire Fatal To Five in Dallas

Dallas, Jan. 27 (AP)—Five members of a family burned to death today when flames destroyed their home. Deputy sheriffs said the fire probably resulted from the explosion of a gasoline stove.

The dead: Broncia Victor Zuk, 29, war veteran and mechanic for a Dallas motor company; his wife, Mrs. Billie Alberta Zuk, 22; and their three children, Broncia Victor, jr., 4; Loretta 2; Joseph, 10-months old.

Court Loud Speaker Aids Shy Witnesses

Grand Rapids, Jan. 27 (AP)—Superior Judge Thaddeus B. Taylor started something when he installed a loud speaker system in his court room to make audible the testimony of "whispering witnesses."

The system worked so well yesterday in its first jury case test that Circuit Judges Leonard D. Verrier and Dale Souter announced they plan to have similar devices installed in their huge, high-ceilinged courtrooms.

Clear Skies Aid Blizzard Relief Task

Floods Drive Out 1000 Families In Illinois

Washington, Jan. 27. (AP)—President Truman today asked Congress for a $1,000,000 blizzard disaster fund.

Mr. Truman yesterday made $200,000 available for disaster relief in the western states.

Asking Congress for additional money, he said that a $500,000 fund voted him by Congress has been reduced to $50,000.

(By The Associated Press)

Temperatures moderated and skies were mostly clear today in the snow-covered western states where disaster relief crews worked to save thousands of stranded livestock and marooned ranchers and Indians.

With no heavy falls of snow over the western plains and Rocky Mountain region airlift operations were increased, easing the feed crisis in Nevada and Utah.

But there was snow, sleet and freezing rain over many other sections of the country. The cold weather eased over the sub-zero belt although the mercury was below zero early today in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wyoming and Utah. St. Cloud, Minn., reported -13 for one of the lowest readings.

A blanket of new snow covered the southern New England states and portions of New York state. Albany, N. Y., had a white carpet of eight inches. Syracuse, N. Y., six inches and Burlington, Vt., four inches.

Freezing rain and sleet spread over southern Iowa and northern Missouri during the night as continued in parts of Kansas, Oklahoma, and southeastern Nebraska. Light freezing drizzle continued in central and northwest Texas.

California Normal

Rain started again today in the flood sections of southern Illinois where some 1,000 families already have been driven from their homes. Rain also fell in Arkansas, Tennessee and western Kentucky. Memphis reported a fall of 1.40 inches.

Linda Christian And Tyrone Power Wed

Rome Bobby-Soxers Mob U. S. Movie Couple

Rome, Jan. 27 (AP)—Linda Christian and Tyrone Power were married today—in a wedding that would stack up against the best of Hollywood's camera extravaganzas.

Screaming thousands of "tifosi," the Italian equivalent of bobby-soxers, staged riot scenes around the little church of Santa Francesca Romana where the film notables said "I do."

Mounted police were called out to ring the church, located in the old part of Rome, a stone's throw from the ancient Colosseum.

But neither the police nor a riot platoon in jeeps could hold the romantic crowds back.

They broke through the lines as Linda arrived 15 minutes late. They screamed "Linda! Linda!" as the starlet, eight-year-old in white satin with an eight-yard long train, entered the church.

Even at the last hour there were worries about a legal hitch because final divorce papers separating Power from his first wife, actress Annabella, had to be signed in California. Powers' marriage to Annabella was performed outside the Roman Catholic church and thus is not recognized by the church.

Used Car Dealer Has One-Cent Sale

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 27 (AP)—A Grand Rapids used car dealer has announced a new tactic in his efforts to step-up his mid-winter business—a one-cent sale.

Operators of the lot (The Auto Mart, 896 Division street) said a 1935 car (Chevrolet) would be sold for one cent to each customer who bought a 1948 model (Buick) at "prevailing prices."

They refused to reveal the price of the 1948 model. Nor would they say how many of the bargain price cars they had on hand.

Wages, Housing A Living Costs Keel Law - Builders Busy

Minimum Pay Increase To Have Thorny Course

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—America's little man had his inning in Congress today.

Lawmakers devoted much of their schedule to bills that would boost his minimum pay, provide low-rent housing, fight the high cost of living, repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and give pensions to veterans.

Rounding out one of the busiest days of the new session of Congress, other groups studied the tariff act, the filibuster, communism, a Republican party policy shake-up, nominations, and air power.

The minimum wage law started to run its thorny course before the House labor committee.

The proposed bill would raise the National minimum pay from 40 to 75 cents an hour, or maybe $1 if business was good enough to justify that rate. This boost in pay would help probably 1,500,000 workers.

More Workers Included

The new legislation, backed by the administration, also would cover about 5,000,000 more workers than are now protected under the current law. The new workers are employees in laundries, hotels, chain stores, seamen and others.

Three multi-billion dollar housing bills are before Congress, but low-income Americans will benefit.

Axis Sally Listens To Old Broadcasts

Nazi Programs Replayed For Reason Trial

BY KARL E. BAUMAN

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—"Axis Sally" landed today on the receiving end of some of her wartime broadcasts from Germany.

The broadcasts brought Maine-born Mildred E. Gillars, 48, to trial in U. S. district court on a treason charge.

The jury already has heard four witnesses from Germany testify to Miss Gillars' activities for the German overseas radio during the war.

John M. Kelley, Jr., chief government prosecutor, told reporters that only one more witness will be called before he begins a job of several days duration playing recordings of Miss Gillars' programs. GI's from Africa to Germany called her broadcasts the "Axis Sally" program.

Kelley identified the witness as Hans P. Winzen of Detroit. He said Winzen was a counter intelligence officer in Germany and will tell how he came into possession of seven original records of a program the Germans billed as "Midge at the Mike."

In addition to the seven originals, Kelley said he plans to have played to the jury more than 20 recordings made in this country of "Axis Sally" broadcasts.

The courtroom was rigged up elaborately for the event. Earphones, rather than a loudspeaker, were provided the jurors, Judge Edward M. Curran, Miss Gillars, and prosecution and defense attorneys.

As a preliminary for the record playing, Kelley yesterday put three Germans—two men and a woman—on the witness stand. All testified that they knew Miss Gillars in Germany and that they had seen her make recordings or live broadcasts.

Veterans' Pension Plans In Spotlight

World War Bonus Bill Still On Tap

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—The House Veterans Affairs committee puts the spotlight today on a veterans pension proposal carrying a multi-billion dollar price tag.

Chairman Rankin (D-Mo.) has given top priority to hearings on a committee bill to pay $60 a month to all veterans of World War I and II at the age of 60. The bill also provides additional pensions ranging from $20 to $120 a month for disability not connected with military service.

Some 18,000,000 war veterans would be eligible—more than 3,500,000 of them within the next 10 years, according to veterans administration figures.

It was estimated the pensions would cost about a billion dollars the first year, mounting to a peak of nearly three billions after five years.

With the pension proposal leading off, another Rankin bill to pay a bonus to veterans of World War II is still on tap in committee.

Minimum estimates place proposed bonus payments at $15,000,000,000, with some figures as high as $40,000,000,000.

The bonus legislation, drawn up by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, calls for payment of $3 a day for service within the United States up to $3,500 and $4 a day for overseas service up to $4,500.

Airlift To Berlin Costs $106,750,000

Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—Seven months of the Berlin airlift has cost the Air Force and Navy $106,750,000, the services reported today. The total does not include the cost of supplies flown into the blockaded city, nor those of the Army which provides ground transportation and other services.

Hero's Award Goes To Port Huron Man Who Saved 2 Girls

Pittsburgh, Jan. 27 (P)—A 30-year old Port Huron, Mich., machinist who saved two girls from drowning has a hero's award from the Carnegie Hero Fund commission.

Lincoln O. Harrington (1839 Riverside drive) was one of 13 heroes honored yesterday by the foundation. Awards were distributed in nine states and Nova Scotia, three of them posthumously.

Harrington won a bronze medal for saving Carol Sue Hottenroth and Donna Kay Kuenzel, both 11, after they broke through the ice
on the Black River Jan. 27, 1947.

Carol Sue clung to the ice 25 feet from the river bank until Harrington ran out and dragged her back while the ice buckled beneath him.

As he sought to reach Donna Kay who was further out in the river, the ice broke. He came up under the ice and had to break his way through to the surface.

The youngster was submerged and unconscious when Harrington reached her. He towed her to solid ice where he grasped a rope thrown out by a youth on the bank, then pulled himself and Donna Kay onto the ice and carried her to shore.

March Of Dimes Is Extended To Feb. 7

The March of Dimes campaign in Michigan to aid the victims of infantile paralysis is being extended to Feb. 7, Frank A. Picard, state chairman, today advised J.
L. Heirman, Delta county drive chairman of the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Heirman reported that campaign committee chairmen in Escanaba, Gladstone and the county are continuing their efforts to bring the March of Dimes fund up or to above last year's total.
No progress report is yet available but Heirman said contributions have been slow in coming in. Apparently the situation is similar elsewhere or the drive
period would not have been extended.

Coin containers have been distributed throughout the county, and school children in the cities and townships are soliciting for the March of Dimes.

Proceeds from the March of Dimes aid in maintaining the special rooms in Escanaba Junior High school where crippled and handicapped children of the county receive physical therapy treatments and special education opportunities.

Nation's New Blood Banks Add Up First Year Assets

Rochester, N. Y., (NEA)—The nation's first regional blood bank in the American Red Cross national blood program added up its assets this month after a year of business, and reported it had showed the way for a total U. S. collection of 97,000 pints of blood for America's peacetime medical needs.

With the Rochester regional center as a model, 19 other centers and one state mobile unit
now are supplying whole blood for free transfusions to patients in 614 hospitals and 32 clinics,
Red Cross officials said.

In addition to the 97,000 pints of blood collected, large quantities of blood derivatives, including immune serum globulin, serum albumin, and anti-hemo-philic globulin were supplied to physicians through state health departments.

Although the collections in this first nation-wide, peacetime chain of blood banks is thus far only a small percentage of the present
U. S. needs, Red Cross officials said it indicates what could be done if all community forces were mobilized.

The most commonly used blood fraction being distributed is immune serum globulin, given in small amounts to children within four or five days after exposure to measles, thereby modifying the attack and sparing them serious complications.

Although whole blood for transfusions and blood plasma for fractions are the major items in the program, some of the surplus plasma returned to the Red Cross by the armed services is being used for research.

Then Like Children: St. Louisans Have 17

St. Louis, Jan. 27 (P)—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schaeffer like children.
And it is just as well they do—
they have had 17 of them.

Two-day old John Michael is the youngest. One child, a girl died when she was five weeks old.

Schaeffer, 48, an electrical contractor says his business is so good that that even with 16 children "I still have to pay some income tax."

Grocery and clothing bills don't worry the Schaeffers. "It doesn't cost much more to feed one more and in a family this size everyone takes hand-me-downs as a matter of course," the father said.

And for housing — "it doesn't get too crowded in our 14-room house. We even have a public address system to keep tab on them."

Extra Week Added To March of Dimes

Lansing, Jan. 27 (P)—Extension of the March of Dimes campaign an extra week in Michigan was announced here today by Federal Judge Frank Picard of Detroit, state chairman.

Because of unfavorable conditions in some parts of the state, he said, the campaign will run through Feb. 7. Beginning Jan.
14, the campaign was originally scheduled to end Jan. 31.

"Early reports of county chairmen indicate splendid cooperation from the citizens of Michigan," Judge Picard said. He added that the extra time and the reports "assure the success of the drive."

Michigan One-Man Grand Jury Under Fire At Lansing

Lansing, Jan. 27 (P)—A bill to abolish Michigan's one-man grand jury system was ready for introduction in the House today.

Rep. John S. Ptaszkiewicz (D-Hamtramck) who unsuccessfully sponsored the same measure two years ago, said it would be introduced today (2 p. m.)

He said he would ask for a public hearing before the House Judiciary Committee, which normally would consider the bill. He added he would invite Detroit Attorney William Henry Gallagher and Larry S. Davidow, bitter critics of the one-man grand jury system, to appear at the hearing.

Michigan's unique grand jury system was set up in 1927 to replace the common law 23-man grand jury. It empowers a judge to be designated as a grand jury with prosecuting and judicial powers.

Hearing Adjourned In Michigan Bell Rate Boost Plea

Lansing, Jan. 27 (P)—The State Public Service Commission today adjourned hearings indefinitely in the application of Michigan Bell Telephone Company for a $20-400,000 annual rate increase.

The adjournment was allowed to permit the city of Detroit to appeal to the state supreme court
the commission's denial of its motion to dismiss the case or adjourn
it until the three-year old litigation of a $3,500,000 rate reduction order is completed.

The commission took under advisement another Detroit motion which asked that the company's application for half of the requested amount as immediate emergency relief be stricken from the record. The city, which is joined in the opposing action by nearly 30 other Michigan communities, has 30 days in which to file its appeal.

JAYCEE AWARD WILL BE GIVEN

Outstanding Young Man To Be Chosen

The Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce is making plans for the selection of the recipient of its annual distinguished service award.

Service clubs, fraternal organizations and other civic groups will be asked to each nominate some young man, 35 years old or younger, as a candidate for the award, which is presented annually to a young man who has been outstanding in his business or profession and in community service activities.

Last year the award was made to Nevin Reynolds, member of the Escanaba city council.

Paul Snyder is chairman of this year's distinguished service award committee. Other members are Roy Johnson, Whitney Dixon, William Heminger and William Bisdie. Judges will be appointed later to make the final choice from the nominations submitted by the various organizations.

Nominations are to be submitted to the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee before Feb. 7.

Presentation of the award to "The Young Man of the Year" will be made at a Jaycee meeting to be held at the Ludington hotel on Feb. 15.

DELTA DEMOS DEFY FRANCO

Convene Friday Despite State Chairman

Despite warnings from Democratic State Chairman John B. Franco that county conventions held without his official call are "illegal," Democrats of Delta and other Michigan counties are going right ahead with convention plans.

Delta county Democrats will meet in convention at 8 p. m. Friday in the court house at Escanaba to select eight delegates to the state Democratic convention, which will nominate a slate of officers for the general state election April 4.

The defiance of local Democrats marks a wider split in Michigan Democratic ranks, one headed by Franco and the other by most of the state's leading members of the party, including Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Gerald J. Cleary, chairman of the Delta county Democratic committee, said today the local committee is following the directions of the state control committee in recent meeting—a meeting that Franco did not attend. Also absent from that meeting was Mrs. Violet Patterson, assistant state chairman, of Delta county and Lansing. It did include Peter Healy of Detroit, Democratic state committee secretary, an anti-Franco member.

The committee set the date Jan. 28 for the county convention and the date of Feb. 5 at Grand Rapids for the state convention. It is these conventions that Franco has described as "illegal." He has stated that he will call a state central committee meeting in Lansing Jan. 31 to issue convention calls.

The state convention, whether held on the call of Franco or Healy, may boomerang against Franco, Democratic party leaders believe. Gov. Williams has thrown his weight in with the anti-Franco group and most county committees are following his lead.

At the Delta county convention here Friday night Prosecuting Attorney J. Clyde McGonagle of Gladstone will preside in the absence of Cleary, who will be out of the city on business.

Maple Ridge Twp. Seeks Industries

Rock, Mich.—The Maple Ridge Township board held a meeting on Tuesday evening to discuss plans for attracting industry to Rock.

George E. Bishop of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau who attended the meeting at the invitation of Walter Manntie, township supervisor, explained to the board what action should be taken to further this development.

A survey of the qualifications of the township was decided upon as the first step and will be begun at once.

Mr. Manntie explained that he is not interested in getting some fly-by-night concern that would operate only during "boom" times and close up at the first hint of slack times. "What I would like to see come here," he said, "is some good, stable company that would provide employment to the people in this township."

T. B. SURVEY
Dr. Towey of Pinecrest Sanatorium, Powers, will be at the Rock high school on Monday, Jan. 31 at 11 o'clock for the purpose of conducting tuberculin skin tests. The tests will be given only to the freshmen and the seniors whose parents have signed the request cards.

Hospital

David Lampinen of Rock has been released from St. Francis hospital where he has been receiving treatment for a severe cold.

Miss Marge Koppes, 814 Ludington street, was dismissed yesterday from St. Francis hospital where she recently submitted to surgery.

St. Ann Principal Leaving For Study At Catholic School

Sister Jane Francis, principal of St. Ann parochial school here for the past three years, has been selected by the Sisters of St. Francis to study in the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C.

Sister Roland of the school staff will replace Sister Jane Francis as principal, and Sister Emilene of Manitowoc, Wis., will arrive shortly to assume the duties of Sister Roland.

License Bureau Open Saturdays

The automobile license bureau, First National Bank building, Escanaba, will remain open all day Saturday beginning this week until the rush is over, William Ranguette, manager, announced today.

Owners are reminded that it is not necessary to wait for the prepared application from Lansing. They may apply for their new license any time at the bureau but must have their titles. If the owner does not receive one it will be made out at the branch office.

Applicants for licenses for commercial trucks, farm trucks and trailers must have weight slips and 1948 registrations. In case these are lost the trucks and trailers must be re-weighed and in instances where body changes have been made a new weight slip will be requested.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Plante, Nahma, are the parents of a son, born this morning at 2:55 at St. Francis hospital.

Millecoquin Lake Lures Fishermen

By Ray Butler

Engadine—Ice fishing on Millecoquin Lake is better this year than in previous years, and over 50 spearing shacks dot the ice from one end of the lake to the other.

Many reports of large Northern pike catches have been received. In fact large catches are so numerous that fishermen regard them as ordinary. Many have reported taking pike weighing 20 pounds and over.

Last year the prize fish was caught by Alvin Platt. It was a northern pike which tipped the scales at 28 pounds and is the largest fish caught here in years. Not only the men are out on the ice this year however. Many women can be seen fishing every day of the week, and they don't come back empty-handed. Last week Mrs. Herb Drown brought home a great northern pike weighing 18 pounds.

Shacks have been built on the lake by Newberry residents. Engadine fishermen and sportsmen from several towns in Luce county. Spearing shacks have been made here from tarpaper or plywood, some elaborate, others very simple. They accommodate from one to six men.

Occupants of these fishing shacks have various reasons for wanting to spend a few hours alone or with their fellowmen. Some like to get away from the everlasting sameness of living and the factory hum-drum; others come for love of the sport and the thrill of catching one of these big, speckled fighters from the frigid, crystal waters.

"May Day" was selected as an international labor holiday by the International Socialist Congress in 1889.

Industry Goes 'Rural'

BUILDINGS MADE IDLE by the decline of mining and lumbering in Minnesota and Wisconsin have been taken over by the Munsingwear company for the launching of new textile industries in several small towns in recent years.

This decentralization of industry has had two-fold benefits. It has meant better employer - employee relations and increased production for the Munsingwear company. To small towns like Montgomery, Park Falls, Park Rapids and Barron, all under 4,000 population, it has brought more employment and more money in the cash registers of stores and service establishments. Idle garages, lodge buildings, town halls and other structures are being used again.

The Munsingwear company's successful venture in the small towns surrounding Minneapolis has inspired other companies to follow its example. For instance, the Cluett-Peabody company, manufacturer of shirts and collars, has set up small plants in vacant buildings on the Mesabi range in Minnesota.

Where large industrial organizations have shown a desire to decentralize, they have found small community officials and Chambers of Commerce willing to cooperate to the fullest extent possible. This does not mean that they give free rent and other concessions. Industries that are worthwhile do not go begging for special favors. And the small towns do not have to give them, for they offer natural advantages such as good living conditions and willing workers that mean much to industry nowadays.

Propose Ban On Front Seat Television

THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE for Traffic Safety has urged that the 48 states enact laws prohibiting front seat television in automobiles. It is a proposal that all persons interested in traffic safety should heartily endorse.

Experiments already conducted show conclusively that television receivers can operate successfully in automobiles. Drivers have enough problems on their hands already, without increasing the hazard of motoring by installing television receivers where car operators can watch them while their vehicles are in motion.

While the problem is no great concern of Upper Peninsula motorists presently, inasmuch as television signals are not received in this territory, few can doubt that television will eventually blanket the nation.

The time to lick the problem is now, before it arrives.

Axis Sally Tried For Treason

"AXIS SALLY," who is Mildred E. Gillars, a native of Portland, Maine, is described in her trial for treason as a loyal American citizen who would do nothing harmful to her country. Axis Sally is the radio personality who broadcast Nazi propaganda directed to American GIs during the war.

It was disclosed at her trial that she was paid 2,000 to 3,000 marks a month by her Nazi bosses, which would be roughly equivalent to $800 to $1,200 in American money according to the official rate of exchange. Mr. Goebbels, the sinister director of propaganda for the Nazis during the war, hardly would lay out that kind of money unless he was getting the kind of propaganda on the German radio that he wanted. It was not the kind of propaganda that a loyal American subject would desire to disseminate in the interests of his or her country.

Miss Gillars was arrested after the war by the U. S. Army but later was released, apparently because the military was too busy with its occupation duties to be concerned about prosecuting alleged traitors. Others of her ilk also were released for the same reason. Subsequently the department of justice conducted its own inquiry and Axis Sally and other renegade Americans who had gone over to the enemy for personal gain were arrested.

It is, we think, interesting to note that the prosecution of American traitors is being launched long after Lord Haw Haw, the British renegade, has been hanged for a similar crime.

Reds Will Win China

A GOOD DEAL is being said and written these days about the Chinese Communists' peace terms and possible compromises leading to a coalition government. But whatever the terms or compromises, the Communists now seem certain of victory. And they seem equally certain to wind up in sole control of the government. They may get this complete control by military or political means. They may act immediately or bide their time. But if the pattern of Communist conquest is anything more than coincidence, they ultimately insist on all or nothing, whatever their methods.

In Poland the Communists seized control by armed occupation. In Czechoslovakia they accomplished the same thing by threats of force and political trickery. In France they prudently chose nothing because, though they held a slim parliamentary majority of members and friends at one time, the setup apparently was too shaky.

The Red forces in China are inheriting a situation comparable to the one in Russia when the Bolsheviks came to power. They are displacing a weak, corrupt government. The economy is collapsing. The few are fat and the millions are hungry. The country is weary from years of interminable war.

This inheritance carries the elements of tremendous power. It carries an active threat to the United States and other free countries. That much is evident. What is not evident is how the Communists will exploit these two advantages, once they take complete control.

The threat, though active, may not be immediate. A good deal of mopping up might have to be done. The Chinese people, unlike the Russians of 1917, are descendants of an ancient civilization. History gives repeated examples of their conquest of conquerors and their stubborn resistance to change. The Communists may run into a popular indifference that is almost as troublesome as opposition. They may also have to undertake a purge of the war lords, who still seem to have considerable strength and popular support.

If and when this is done, the rest of the world may look for some important developments. Will the Red conquerors choose a course of peace that will enable them to start stabilizing, restoring and industrializing China? Or will they use the country pretty much as it is for a base from which to strike at other troubled areas in Asia in the hope of bringing the whole vast continent under Communist domination?

These decisions will very likely be made in Moscow, and on the basis of conditions in China as well as strategy. The free world's best hope—though not its only one—is that the wrong decision is made and failure results. In the light of past history and present conditions, that hope may have a stronger basis than wishfulness.

HIT AND RUN (Sault Ste. Marie News)

One of the least understandable creatures of the automobile age is the hit-and-run driver.

It is said that to err is human. Probably human frailty is such that the most careful driver may sometimes be involved in an accident for which he seems responsible. At the other extreme, many accidents are caused by drivers who are completely careless, or who have muddled their senses with drink until they can no longer control their cars. Somewhere between these two extremes are most of the drivers in accidents.

But if the driver was human in the error which brought him to a mishap, he certainly abounds all humanity if he then speeds away and leaves his victim lying in the street. The act in such case becomes one of callous brutality.

If the aim of the law were to punish the guilty according to their crimes, it would be hard to imagine a penalty equal in magnitude to the offense of the hit-and-run driver. Since the aim, at least in theory, is to prepare the offender for return to society, it's equally hard to conceive of a way to instill humanity in the mind of such a person.

THAT FURNACE CAN BE DEADLY (Milwaukee Journal)

There are few things more dangerous in a home than a defective heating plant.

Dr. E. R. Krumbiegel, health commissioner of Milwaukee, called attention to this, following two deaths and additional cases of serious illness after a heating plant had "leaked" gases through the ducts of a multifamily dwelling in the city. There have been other instances this winter. They occur in every winter season.

Dr. Krumbiegel urged, in effect, that furnaces and stoves be carefully checked. If there is a defect, there is still the necessity of operating the plant with the skill needed for safety.

Good care for our "stoves"—whether they burn coal, oil or other fuel—can insure safety from gas poisoning. And good care is so easy to have.

Trial Of Reds In Spotlight

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—The trial of the little group of men who have directed the Communist party in the United States is being watched throughout the world. In a sense it is a test of the American judicial system as well as a trial of the Communist party.

In recent years we have learned a great deal about the conspiratorial methods of Communism in its operation in almost every country on the globe. Novelists, such as Arthur Koestler and others, have brilliantly dissected the Marxist mind with its awful, guilty complex.

The Canadian espionage inquiry gave a carefully documented picture, never before available, of techniques. It showed how disgruntled, disaffected citizens on the one hand and willful idealists on the other hand could be drawn so far into the Communist net that they found themselves becoming traitors and spies almost without being aware of it.

The pattern of training in Moscow for revolutionaries and saboteurs has been revealed. Graduates of every nationality pop up in their respective homelands prepared to help overthrow existing governments.

REDS ASK FREE SPEECH

Were the 12 American Communists carrying on in this pattern, and can the government prove it? That is the question the jury must decide.

The Communists are raising the issue of the right of free speech. The American Civil Liberties Union, which has no taint whatsoever of Communism, defends the right of Communists to argue their beliefs. With respect to the issue of free speech it seems to me important to make a distinction. Speech that is open and public, even including public speech advocating revolution, is within the framework of traditional American freedom.

But speech that is secret and conspiratorial does not come under the protection of the constitutional guarantees. Thus, two men planning to rob a bank could scarcely claim freedom of speech for a discussion of their plot.

Attorney General Tom Clark is confident that the government's case against the Communist bosses will not cut across the guarantees that are at the heart of American freedom. The indictments were returned only after the most thorough and exhaustive investigation into the acts—as distinguished from the words—of the Communist party in this country.

The department of justice has more at stake than the outcome of the trial. Mr. Clark has asked Congress for a drastic tightening of the present statutes covering espionage. The case now being presented in New York and its outcome may well determine how far Congress will go in granting further powers.

WIRE TAPPING ISSUE

One of the things Attorney General Clark is asking is that evidence obtained by wire tapping be allowed to be introduced as evidence in the federal courts. There is a great deal of confusion about the matter of wire tapping which Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes called a "dirty business."

Wire tapping is not now forbidden by law. A great deal more of it goes on than the average citizen realizes. While evidence obtained in this way cannot be used in a federal court, the Federal Bureau of Investigation does a limited amount of wire tapping under the personal supervision of the attorney general. On the average, about 10 taps are approved by Mr. Clark to be carried on simultaneously.

Under the proposal outlined by the attorney general, wire tapping would be permitted only when in the interpretation of the Department of Justice the national security was involved. Evidence obtained under such a ruling from the attorney general could be introduced in the federal courts.

Under any other circumstances wire tapping by governmental or private agencies would be unlawful. Thus, if Mr. Clark's proposal is enacted into law, the present wholesale snooping by the wire-tap method would be ended. Presumably, in only a very few instances would an attorney general approve this technique, since he would be directly responsible in the event of a backfire with public opinion rising up in protest at an abuse of what most Americans, at any rate, consider highly unpleasant business.

This will be one of the toughest decisions for Congress to make. A decision should be reached only after extensive hearings have reviewed the whole question of the right of free speech in connection with the threat of the Communist conspiracy. It will be no triumph over Communism if in the effort to defeat the conspiracy the methods of our government are degraded to a conspiratorial level.

Wilmington: We have a heated argument in our office about dividing words at the end of a line. I contend that it is correct to divide friends as fri-ends, boats as bo-ats, and ro-ugh. The other side screams "No!"—J. E. B.

Answer: The other side has you dead to rights. One-syllable words should never be divided regardless of the number of letters they contain.

Note what serious stoplights such split words as yours would become:

"The admiral told a group of friends that the Navy's new landing boats would be much more stable in rough seas."

Just How Potent Is the Power of Suggestion?

Good Evening By Clint Dunathan

TOO MUCH GLAMOUR—The word glamour, now often spelled glamor in the United States, has become trite because it is overused. Clothing is glamorous, cosmetics are glamorous, rooms are glamorous, cars are glamorous, Hollywood women are glamorous, Hollywood men are glamorous, and we saw an advertisement in which a swamp was described as the "glamorous Everglades."

Aside from its triteness, the word is often wrongly used. For Webster defines glamour as "a spell or charm which deceives the sight," and again, "an object or person delusively magnified or glorified; a deceptive or enticing charm." Glamour is, then, a sham, a deceit, an illusion of magnificence or glory. It is a trick upon the eye, making silk of shoddy, and gold of grosser metal. To call a woman glamorous, therefore, is to brand her as a cheap and tricky piece who can delude you into believing she is really a desirable commodity.

IN OUR LIVES—The word has become so loosely used that we have seen breakfast food advertisements in which purchasers were advertised that Krispy Kunchies will give them "that glamor breakfast." Paint and wallpaper will "glamorize" your home, and new autos bring you "a glamor ride."

There is far too much "glamor" in our lives. Too many people are seeking some secret charm, some bit of magic, that will transform an otherwise commonplace exterior into a shining illusion of enchantment. Instead of searching for the beauty of real character they seek only shining sham and surface "glamor."

MUST BE NEW—Today "glamor" has come to mean a standard of worth, as measured by our standards. It has come to mean something desirable. It is symptomatic of our times that the old is never glamorous. The young woman, the new car, the new house, the new gown—these are glamorous. So is the new Everglades National Park. Because "glamor" has been elevated to the position of desirability, the old may seek it but never really attain it no matter what new shades of lipstick are applied, or how many new gowns, cars, homes, etc., are purchased.

Thus for millions of people the superficial has become "glamorous," while the character in the lines of an old woman's face, the strength in the gnarled hands of a workman, are neither "glamorous" nor desirable.

THE TREND AWAY—Indicating the Hollywood touch that has made American "glamor" conscious is the trend away from overworked sham and artifice.

Now the movie producers speak of "de-glamorizing" roles in which established stars—most of them on the older side—can look like people rather than painted dolls. Such and such a star has been given a movie part in which she wears an old sweater, a woolen skirt, and little or no makeup. The picture is a success at the box office because the audience can believe such persons exist.

This is a welcome relief from the commercial standard epitomized in the perfume ads: "Surround yourself with an aura of glamor!"

FACE VALUE—It is unfortunate that so many people do believe that "glamor" can take the place of good character; that surface appearance will offset lack of sincerity and thoughtfulness. A friend of ours, visiting a beauty parlor, watched a mother holding her very young daughter under the curling machine. The child was fidgety and definitely uninterested in the process.

"Darling," said the mother, "you must sit still. Don't you want to be pretty like Betty Grable?" And then an aside to the beauty shop proprietor, "she just adores Betty Grable."

Please understand that so far as we are concerned Miss Grable may be a hardworking and altogether admirable person. But most thoughtful parents would not knowingly encourage their child to elevate her to a position of adoration.

THE YARDSTICK—To measure success according to the "glamor yardstick" requires little skill. To be "glamorous" you must have something that arouses the desire or the envy of another. It may be physical beauty enhanced by artifice, or any one of a number of things that can be purchased for a price.

According to the "glamor" measure this quality of deficit can be acquired by using certain commercial articles, with the "glamor" increasing according to the price tag. The fallacy of this should be readily discerned.

The most charming persons we know are those who make the least conscious effort to charm. They are sincere, honestly themselves, without pretense or artifice. You can enjoy them without wondering how much they paid for their equipment.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—While we are worrying about troubles in Greece, Turkey, Iran and the back door of Europe, trouble is increasing in our own front yard—Latin America.

Foreign Minister Carlos Hevia of Cuba stopped in Washington to warn President Truman about these troubles last week, but couldn't get in to see him. Too much inauguration. However, other Latin-American ambassadors have talked to Truman prior to the inauguration and have received mixed reactions.

The president is worried about the increasing growth of Latin-American militarism, but in the case of Venezuela—which the U. S. A. recognized last week—he explained that we had to get along with the Venezuelan dictators because we had to get Venezuelan oil for Marshall Plan shipments to Europe.

Also Mr. Truman showed signs of pique at his old friend, ex-President Gallegos of Venezuela for a statement made when he arrived in exile in Cuba to the effect that the Venezuelan revolt was the United States' fault.

Most Latin diplomats are inclined to agree that hasty U. S. recognition of the Peruvian military dictators did lead to the Venezuelan revolt. Nevertheless, Mr. Truman seemed considerably settled over Gallegos' remark, even though he and President Gallegos traveled out to Bolivar, Mo., last year to unveil a statue of Simon Bolivar, and got to know each other quite well.

At any rate more trouble is brewing in Venezuela, where the military are already at each other's throats. Also the Pan American Union is now debating an embarrassing Chilean demand that the Venezuelan dictators release ex-President Bettencourt from jail.

NEW MEXICO POLITICS

The governor of New Mexico met the senior senator from New Mexico at Secretary of the Treasury Snyder's reception the other day. They were polite but not very pleased.

Thereby hangs the story of an election reversal as unexpected as anything predicted by Dr. Gallup.

The governor of New Mexico, big, popular Tom Mabry, is a Democrat. The senior senator from New Mexico, dark, bushy-browed Dennis Chavez, is also a Democrat. But they do not love each other.

Reason: Chavez was certain Mabry would not be re-elected governor last November, staked everything that New Mexico would go Republican.

Furthermore, Chavez worked out a neat scheme whereby his brother Dave could be appointed to the United States Senate by a Republican governor. Chavez, ill for some time, last fall did not expect to live. And he wanted his brother to take his place in the Senate.

Undoubtedly, Governor Mabry would have been willing to appoint Dave Chavez to the Senate, but Dennis Chavez didn't give him a chance. He assumed the Republicans were sure-shot winners, and that a Republican governor, Manuel Lujan, would be in the saddle to do the appointing.

So Senator Chavez quietly let it be known he was for Lujan with the tacit understanding that Lujan would appoint his brother Dave to the Senate if Dennis passed away. For a time the senator even gave the impression that he was also for Tom Dewey.

Then came the election returns. Governor Mabry fooled Chavez and was re-elected. Obviously he is not now going to appoint brother Dave to the Senate. So a lot of people are betting that rather than have Mabry appoint his successor, Dennis Chavez will now fool his doctors.

PROTECTING SMALL BUSINESS

Hotly debated in Senate cloakrooms this week has been the question of whether the Senate small business committee shall continue as in independent body or become a subcommittee under the Senate banking and currency committee.

One thing which the 80th Congress did well—despite all its other faults—was to operate a fearless, forthright small business committee. This was due in part to the astuteness of its counsel, George Meredith, and in part to the rambunctious belligerency of Senator Wherry of Nebraska, who was loud and vocal in his championship of small business though his votes on the Senate floor sometimes were the other way.

Despite this good job, many Democrats want to merge the small business committee—which has operated in its own right—and make it merely a subcommittee.

Part of this opposition is because the small business committee has stepped on too many big-business toes. Part also is based on the fact that if the small business committee remains independent, it will be dominated by kindly, able Senator Jim Murray of Montana, a highly respected statesman, but who is expected to appoint his son as counsel and operate as a one-man committee. This criticism may not be justified, but it exists. And it may influence the fate of one of the most important committees in the Senate.

CHINESE "FACE"

The exit of Chiang Kai-shek recalls a famous photo taken in the White House garden of Chiang's brother-in-law, T. V. Soong, together with President Truman, and the then secretaries of state, war and navy—Edward Stettinius, Henry L. Stimson and James V. Forrestal.

The photo was arranged by ex-brain-truster Tom Corcoran, attorney for the Chinese government, through his close friend, Forrestal, in order to strengthen Soong's hand in China and make it appear that he was the bosom friend of the president of the United States and his highest cabinet members.

The photo worked wonders. "Face" (we call it prestige) means everything in China, and Soong came back to Nanking ace-high with everyone. Also, it strengthened the position of Chiang Kai-shek. He and his family were considered to have the 100 per cent support of the U. S. government.

SALOON WAS QUIET PLACE

Modern Joints Are Too
Noisy, Says Ruark

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—The American saloon, which once provided a snug retreat from the gall of domestic and economic chafe, seems just about finished. Once a place of considerable grace and decorum, given to the quiet expansion of the intellect, it has finally become a coeducational madhouse full of shrieks and fury.

The intrusion of television into the homey bar is, I suppose, the final stroke. But the victim was dying, anyhow, done in by the dry martini, the whisky-on-rocks, the radio, the juke boxes, the women, the absence of a decent free snack.

There was a certain quiet charm to some of the speakeasies of my tender time, even if the booze's parentage was dubious, and an occasional case of blind staggers dwelt in the decanter. Most of the speaks were quiet, at any rate, and a muck of them stayed that way after it got legal again. For awhile, that is, they stayed that way.

Considering that the original function of the public house was to stroke the nerves, free the tongue and set the brain a-prickle under a measured poultice of alcohol, it is short wonder today that the intoxication figures leap and caper higher. To build sufficient courage even to enter the modern grogshop, a man of average sensitivity would have to get hollering drunk before he shoved his nose into the bedlam.

Martini Packs Wallop

Once in, and unwarily sober, there is little to do but stroke the torso with flame if the man intends to remain on the premises. And as a swift anointer of the nerve-ends, the Martini is all by itself. A drink unfit for consumption by other than professional sword-swallowers, it assaults its user with all the subtlety of a sledge on the skull. In its most popular form it is simple gin which has been breathed on by a man who has gargled vermouth. That gives it flavor.

I have known more weepers, fighters, fallers, screamers, mumbler and stumblers among the Martini alumni than among all other branches of the Tiptle family. You cannot talk long to a martini hound—unless you get down on the floor with him.

It is interesting that addition to the lustier belts—the five-part gin Martini, and the double dollop of rye on ice-cubes—grows in popularity, as today's drinkers seek a short route to unconsciousness. It could be that the saloon, once man's last haven from the frenzied world, has taken on a portion of the world's frenzy.

All Was Bedlam

Recently I wandered in — and just as quickly out — of a place on which a modern Dante might model his Inferno. It said "tavern," outside. Inside two separate television sets, on different channels, went full foot. The bartender had tuned his personal radio over the TV din, and a doom-voiced news broadcaster was untidiously retelling the freshest horrors of the peace.

A jukebox belched and gurgled in a far corner, and a pinball machine clattered in another. Every voice in the house was raised in a scream for dominance, with the female yipping soaring over the male bellowing. It was a place to leave.

Very few saloons bother to set up a slab of rat cheese, a sprig of herring or a pig's fetlock, any more, to soften the bounce of the raw rye on an empty stomach. The dish of potato chips provides no nutriment and its salt only increases the thirst. That goes double for peanuts. There is nothing in those skimpy vittles for the alcohol to rattle with.

Very few places, today, set up a slug on the house, as a gracious gesture to a gracious customer, whose custom and comportment is appreciated. The law generally forbids it, on the grounds that a courtesy cup, for free, will drive the recipient to drunkenness.

Most of the ameliorative aspects of standup drinking seem to have departed the scene, and I think I shall build my own private bar. It'll be small, maybe, but by cracky it'll be quiet.

53 Ratings Open
In Delta County
National Guards

As an incentive to veterans of World War II to join the local National Guard unit, company officers pointed out today that 53 ratings in the company are still open. They range from private, first class (old rating of corporal) to sergeants, third class, or staff sergeants.

"We have many recruits, but to provide good balance in the company, we are desirous of enlisting more men with previous military experience," they pointed out.

All men interested in joining, whether with or without previous military experience, are invited to attend drill at the fairgrounds armory at 7:30 this evening.

Trenary

Visits Trenary

Trenary, Mich.—District Governor Ben J. Grobaski of L'Anse was guest of the Trenary Lions club at their regular meeting last Tuesday evening at the town hall. He is making a tour of all Lions' clubs in the upper peninsula.

In addition to the district governor, a delegation of members from the Rock Lions club was present. The Rock club sponsored the Trenary club at its inception over a year ago.

Refreshments were served by Clyde Spielmacher and Art Saari. Movies were shown by Conservation Officer Gilbert Larson, following the talk given by Mr. Grobaski.

Wedding Party

A wedding party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Art Saari, at their farm home, on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 23.

A social afternoon was spent with friends of both bride and groom.

The couple received many lovely gifts.

Mrs. Saari is the former Mrs. Lydia Rautio.

Drive For CROP Funds

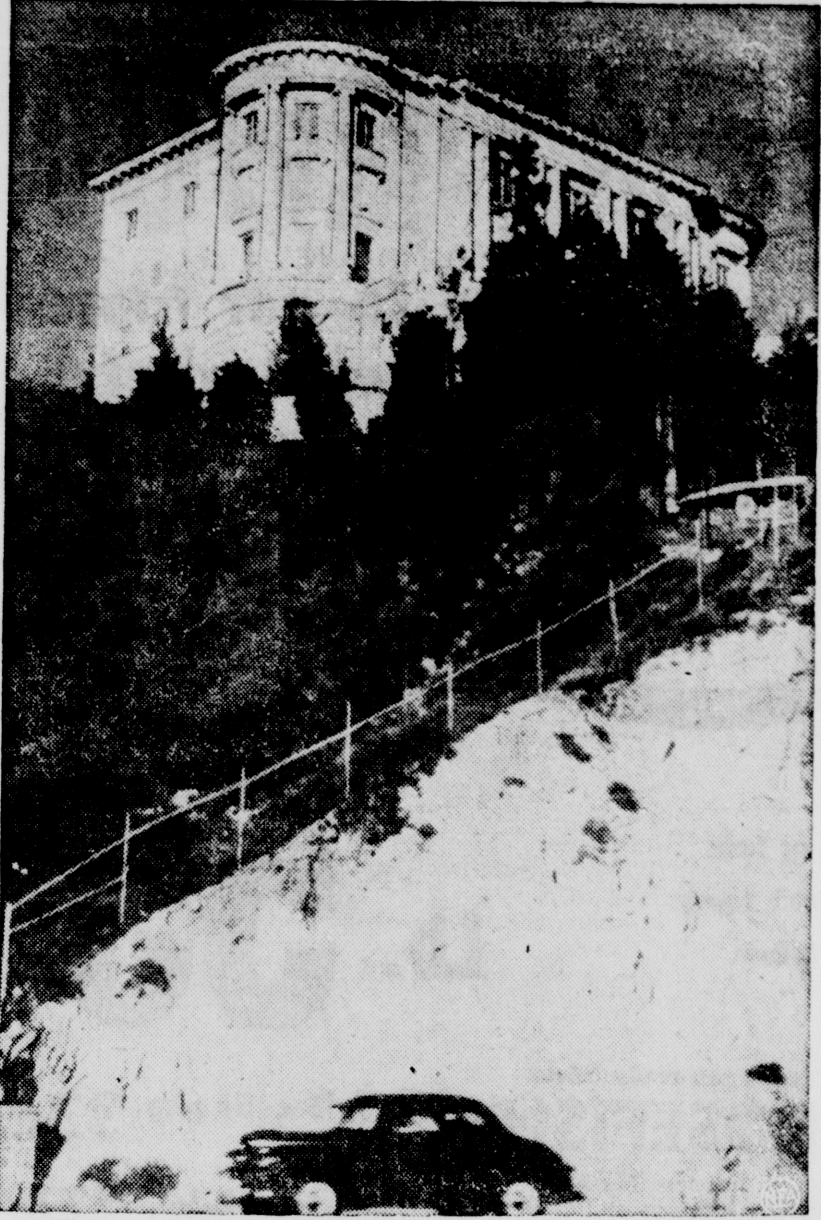

A meeting of solicitors for the CROP program in Trenary was held at the high school on Monday evening. The sections of the townships were divided for solicitations.

Donations for the CROP contribution to starving Europe, should be in the form of cash, so that canned milk may be purchased.

Local donations will be deposited in the Trenary State Bank until all donations have been received. They will then be sent to the CROP committee in Munising for conversion to canned milk.

Teen-Agers Dance

A teen-agers dance was given in the parish hall at St. Rita's Catholic church last Sunday afternoon by the Catholic Youth Organization. Refreshments were served.

RITA'S DREAM COTTAGE—In her film roles, Rita Hayworth has often talked about settling down in a little, vine-covered cottage. In real life, she may live in this 35-room villa atop a cliff in Malibu, Calif. Agents of her husband-to-be, Aly Khan, are reportedly dickering for the purchase of the Villa Leon, built in 1927 for $800,000. Among other features, it has a pipe organ, elevator and underground garage.

They Turn Out In Families
For Escanaba Ice Revue!

To have many families turn out for the 11th annual ice revue to be presented Feb. 3-4-5-6 doesn't greatly surprise ice revue committees in Escanaba. When a whole family turns out to skate in the gala ice follies, that's a different matter.

The free-sliding family referred to is the Cleve Moores. Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Cleve Jr., and Karen will be featured in the second portion of the show when variety acts will be the order of the day. And John Moore will be the Rabbit in the Alice in Wonderland fantasy.

In all 350 skaters will be featured. All are now training in dance routines on the ice, and this week are swinging into a heavy rehearsal schedule, with Jeannette LeCaptain, director.

Mary Goodreau will skate as Alice in the Alice in Wonderland portion of the show. Eileen Murphy, Mary Alice Rasche and Jane Dutton of Escanaba Civic Theatre wrote dramatic sequences for this, and members of Escanaba Civic Theatre will narrate.

If you haven't heard about the ultra sets designed by Don Devlin and his committee, let us tell you they are masterpieces. Sometimes it took only a piece of cardboard with a deft twist and some paint; other times the set entailed a little more costly material. But the result is a highly imaginative, and beautiful stage setting for the ice follies.

Donna Sullivan and Billy Goodreau, who will be remembered for their past skating performances, will be featured as the king and queen for the Alice in Wonderland revue. Patsy Davis will be the cat and Jim Boushe and Ronald Provo the jesters. Doris Hogan will be the madhatter and Dora Rose the duchess. The knave of hearts role will be played by Howard Wiles.

Skaters are now practicing with the organ, and each day one finds Bill Clark seated at the Hammond for rehearsals. The Alice in Wonderland show is set to the following musical numbers: "Toyland," "Somewhere over the Rainbow," "Tiptoeing Through

Bess Truman's Pudding Recipe
In New Cook Book

By JANE EADS

Washington—Whether it's Mrs. Truman's "Ozark Pudding" or something called "stuffed monkey" that you want to whip up for the family, you'll find the recipe in a unique 600-page cook book.

It's the new Congressional Club Cook Book, latest edition of a volume first published by the congressional wives' organization back in 1927. In addition to some 50 recipes from foreign countries submitted by wives of diplomats, the book contains hundreds of recipes contributed by wives of cabinet members, Supreme Court justices, congressmen, former congressmen and governors or states.

The First Lady, who joined the club when her husband was senator, has written a foreword for the book and contributed her favorite recipe too. Signed simply "Bess W. Truman, Missouri," are the following directions for making Ozark Pudding, a dish which features chopped nuts and apples and is served with whipped cream or ice cream:

Mrs. Truman did not list the ingredients first. She just pitched it right in—"One egg and three-fourths cup sugar, beaten together for a long time until very smooth. (She underlines the 'very'.) Mix two tablespoons of flour, one and one-fourth teaspoons of baking powder, one-eighth teaspoon of salt. Add to egg-sugar mixture, add one-half cup chopped nuts, one-half cup chopped apples, one teaspoon vanilla. Bake in greased tin in a 350-degree oven for 35 minutes."

Foreign Recipes

Members of the club take pride in the foreign recipe section of the book. They feel they can help spread a bit of international good will by the exchange of recipes, says Mrs. Lawrence H. Smith, wife of the congressman from Wisconsin and chairman of the cook book committee.

The recipe for stuffed monkey, incidentally, was submitted by Mrs. Norman J. O. Makin, wife of the Australian Ambassador. I called the Embassy to ask Mrs. Makin to please tell me how you caught the monkey in the first place and then to give me the recipe. There was long and hearty laughter at the other end of the line.

"Oh, my dear," Mrs. Makin explained, "that's just the name of my favorite tea cakes. We really don't eat monkeys in Australia." The diplomat's wife explained the cakes are called "stuffed monkeys" simply because you stuff them as full of as many different kinds of nuts and fruits as you can get into them, along with a variety of exotic spices. They are made with the usual mixture of flour, sugar and eggs.

The liquor left over from canned peas or snap beans may be used in a white sauce, in gravy or in soup.

day lunch served by Mrs. Arthur Derusha and Mrs. Fred Courier who arranged the party. A large birthday cake, attractively decorated, centered the table. Mrs. Derusha was presented with a purse.

Guests at the party included Mr. and Mrs. Alex Derouin, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Derusha, Mr. and Mrs. Sid Derusha, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Derouin, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Courier, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Starrine, Arthur Derusha and Fred Courier.

STUDENTS TO GET TB TEST

Dr. Towey Will Come To GHS on Feb. 7

Dr. John Towey, director of Pincrest Sanatorium, will come to Gladstone on Monday, Feb. 7, to conduct tuberculosis tests among students of the 9th and 12th grades. It is announced by Miss Lillian Johnson, school nurse.

The test will disclose or reveal students that have come in contact with the T-B germ and make possible a complete follow-up.

Cards which are to be signed by parent or guardian, giving permission to make the test, are being distributed among the students.

Cooperation in signing the cards and promptness in returning them is being requested by Miss Johnson, who would like to see 100 per cent of the students enrolled be given the check.

In addition to the benefit which the student derives, the work will be of value in the entire battle against tuberculosis for it is to become part of a study which is being made by Dr. Towey.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris White returned to their home in Toledo, Ind., on Wednesday after spending the weekend visiting with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. August Snyder and with his brothers C. R. White and Hanford White.

WAIT'LL LOUIS GOES HOME! — Imagine what Mrs. Louis Petroni will say when he gets home—smelling of (a) garlic, (b) champagne and (c) singer Joan Edwards' perfume. "Dear," Louis will say, "you see I was the 50,000th farmer to bring my produce to San Francisco's Farmers' Market, and they gave me a necklace of garlic, and Joan Edwards poured champagne on my head." No matter what Mrs. P. thinks, it's true.

MEET FRIDAYArtificial Breeders Unit
To Be Launched

Farmers of Schoolcraft county who maintain dairy herds are being notified this week of a meeting at the court house Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock called for the purpose of organizing an artificial breeding association.

Clayton Reid, who is issuing the call, presents four reasons why this modern phase of dairy farming is more desirable than the old. These reasons are:

First, it will not be necessary to keep a dangerous breeding animal on the farm any more.

Second, herds may be improved rapidly through use of proven sires.

Third, money may be saved on breeding costs.

Fourth, more profit will be realized on future herds.

Interested farmers are being urged to bring along their neighbors as an organization can be launched only if the neighbors show enough interest to warrant the hiring of a specialist to carry on the work. The work cannot be carried on unless at least 500 cows are to be bred.

THERE'S A GREAT DAY COMING—Motorists, who don't like to drive in the snow, have a treat in store for them some day soon. Electrically-treated highways, which melt the snow, are being perfected. This is a 500-foot experimental stretch near Detroit, Mich. Although snow covers the rest of the road, the "hot road" remains clear.

OLD VS. NEW

Some modern cameras are built to take 500 pictures a second, whereas the old-time camera required so much time to take one picture that a subject had to sit motionless, with his head held in a clamp.

Great Care Is Needed
When Storing Awnings

When awnings are taken down for the winter they should be carefully inspected and repaired. Some seams invariably need restitching. For this, only the best quality waxed thread should be used.

After repairs are made, awnings should be washed with mild soap and thoroughly rinsed. Metal parts should be lightly oiled. Never fold awnings for storage. It is best to hang them on racks as free from folds as possible.

All-American Al Wistert, Dom Tomasi, U-M, To Address Local Prep Gridders Wednesday

Alvin Wistert, captain-elect of the University of Michigan national championship football team, and his teammate, Dominic Tomasi, not only are all-American and all-Big Nine football players, but they are accomplished and entertaining speakers as well.

That's the word from Dean Ann Arbor town, where arrangements were made for Wistert, all-American tackle, and Tomasi, 1948 captain and all-Big Nine guard, to address football players of Escanaba high school and St. Joseph's parochial school.

They will make their appearance in St. Joseph's parish hall next Wednesday evening when the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and businessmen of this city will honor its prep gridders of the 1948 season. Thirty Trojans from St. Joseph's and 39 Eskymos from Escanaba high school will be guests of local businessmen for this annual affair.

All persons—except guests, of course, who are planning to attend the dinner, are urged by the committee in charge to get their tickets without delay in order that full preparations can be made for the dinner.

Wistert is one of three famous Wistert brothers, all of whom have achieved all-American fame. His record is unique in that he was out of school for some time during service in the armed forces in World War II and returned to school under the G. I. Bill of Rights. He proceeded to emulate the feats of his brothers while in his early thirties, a ripe old age for college football players.

He played spectacular football under Coach Fritz Crisler, figuring prominently in University of Michigan's undefeated 1947 season when the Wolverines climaxed the year with a record-equalling 49-0 victory over Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

His play was even more outstanding last season when he was named on nearly all the major all-American football elevens for his play with Michigan's undisputed national championship team.

For his all-around football ability and his pleasing personality and leadership qualities, he was named by his teammates to lead the 1949 Michigan squad. He will be a senior next fall.

Tomasi is the fiery Wolverine guard who was honored by being named on practically all Wolverine opponents' all-opponent teams. That is an honor held highly by the players themselves. It means they have earned the sincere respect and admiration of their opponents—an acid test.

Tomasi, leader of Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's 1948 national championship U-M eleven, was an all-Western Conference selection at guard. He is extremely fast and a deadly blocker and was one of the key men in Michigan's offense last fall and the year before.

At 180 and outweighed by many of his opposing guards, the hard-hitting Michigan captain of 1948 more than made up for the weight disadvantage by a tenacious fighting spirit. He's a hustler and was always one of the hardest workers on the practice field and in the game.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Caught on the rebound at the Green Bay Packers-Escanaba Hard-ware basketball game here last night:

Tony Canadeo got the biggest hand when the Packers were introduced, but he lost a few friends by his display of temperament at the close of the game . . . Tom St. Germain, St. Joseph's coach, got a nice hand . . . Who are those three persons who boomed when Cliff Beaudin, Jr., Hardware manager, was introduced?

Ted Fritsch is a first-rate clown . . . He's got many tricks of the trade . . . His timing is good . . . He knows when to pull a gag and when to skip it . . . Quick for a big man? . . . His piano-leg pins moved like pistons . . . On occasion, he dived into the crowd, stood on his head, dribbled the ball while on his knees, blocked, tackled, ran interference and when the Packers got in a tight spot, he always called for play No. 3.

Late in the fourth quarter, he came over to the officials' table . . . "Let me know when there are two or three minutes left," he said . . . Someone asked why . . . "I'm going to turn the heat on," he replied, quick-like . . . Occasionally, Canadeo and Jug Girard tried to get into the act . . . Jug passed the ball like a shot out of a cannon and once stood on his head in a sideline mixup among the spectators . . . But it was largely Fritsch's show.

The Hardwares were chuckling at St. Germain mixing it with big Fritsch . . . He didn't like the way Fritsch was swarming over him without getting called for it . . . They forgot to tell St. Germain that by mutual agreement, Officials Steve Baltic and Dick Schram were letting the Packers get away with everything short of homicide and/or the most flagrant violations.

Incidentally, if St. Germain walks a little slowly today, just let it pass . . . He had a rough time with Fritsch . . . Once the 218-pound Packer fullback rolled right over him the full length of his body . . . St. Germain even gave it the old college try in trying to break through Ken Kuiper and Andy Uram running interference for Ted Fritsch . . . Asked what he would do had he been successful in breaking through, he said he'd bat the ball out of Fritsch's hands . . . But tackle him—"No, thank you!"

Cuff notes: Billy Nelson, Betty Lundeen and Howie Perron, all intermediate division skaters, will represent Escanaba in the national speed skating meet in St. Paul Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 12 and 13 . . . Dick Schram, George Ruwittch and Wallace Cameron have again been selected to officiate in the state high school basketball tournament . . . Schram and Cameron will work the Class B tournament in Marquette and Ruwittch will work the Class C tournament in Ishpeming.

Escanaba scored eight to three for Green Bay in the overtime; Ted Fritsch placekicked, Canadeo ran with the ball, Girard passed to Luhn for a touchdown, and the show was over. It was an anticlimax.

So you can call it either 57-55 or 65-60 in the overtime. The Packers were outclassed, but they were full of fun and put on a good show until they got beat.

In the preliminary, Bill Courneen scored 12 points to pace Wait Window to a 29-27 win over Cloverland. Elroy Zimmerman scored 13 for the Collegians, who Marquette Baraga at Escanaba St. Joseph.

Negaunee St. Paul at Marquette Pierce.

St. Joseph's Trojans, who last Saturday set a school scoring record when they vanquished Felch, 80-26, will be after their ninth triumph of the season when they battle the Baraga parochial five of Marquette in Bonifas gym Saturday night.

A preliminary game between the two schools' Bee teams will get underway at 7, and the main game will start at 8:30. To date, St. Joe has defeated Bark River-Harris, Gladstone, Baraga parochia, Manistique, Stephenson, Sacred Heart of Laurium, Rock, Felch and lost to Escanaba, St. Ambrose of Ironwood, Gladstone and Gwinn.

Soo Here Friday
The Delta county spotlight tomorrow night is on Sault Ste. Marie at Escanaba and Gladstone at Ishpeming. The Eskymos could regain some prestige by stopping the Blue Devils, and the Braves will be fighting to keep their Great Lakes conference record unblemished.

Manistique will invade Negaunee tomorrow for a stiff test against the Miners, only undefeated Class B squad in the U. P. After playing the Eskymos here tomorrow night, the Soo Blue Devils will travel to Negaunee to meet the Miners Saturday night.

Watch Mass Game
Munising and Newberry play non-Great Lakes conference foes this week, the former entertaining Eben and the latter taking on Sault Tech. J. V. at Newberry tomorrow night.

Considerable interest is shown in the game tomorrow night between Ironwood St. Ambrose and Mass, the wonder team of the U. P. with a 59-game winning streak, a state record. St. Ambrose, winner of the U. P. parochial tournament in Escanaba during the holidays, is conceded a good chance of stopping the amazing Mass win streak that started in the 1946-1947 season.

Marvin Stahl Quits As a Golfing Pro

Grand Rapids, Jan. 27 (AP) — Marvin Stahl, golf professional at Blytheville Country club here the past year, and former pro at Lansing Country club for six years, has announced his resignation to become a manufacturer's agent.

Stahl started his golfing career here as a caddy in 1922. He later won the western Michigan golf title five years in a row, and as a pro captured the Michigan open in 1936, 1938 and 1939. In 1942 he was the Michigan PGA champion.

Blytheville directors said no successor in Stahl has yet been considered.

142 Try to Stop Hogan at Phoenix

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 27 (AP) — There were 142 golfers out to stop Ben Hogan's quest for a third consecutive 1949 tournament title today as play started in the $10,000 Phoenix open.

The 137-pound links star already has copped top money in the Bing Crosby and Long Beach events in California.

For Hogan this marks the last outing until the Masters' at Augusta, Ga., although Ben says he "may" play in the Houston open. He figures it's about time the Hogans were settling in the new home they bought in Fort Worth, Tex., last spring.

Johnny Palmer, the Badin, N. C., professional put his name high on the list of challengers when he posted a seven-under-par 64 in a pre-tourney round yesterday.

Indians Asking Bill Veeck For More 'Mazuma'

Cleveland, Jan. 27 (AP) — Like everything else these days, a world's championship and an all-time attendance record in baseball come high.

President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians knows because he's already met with rebuffs in attempts to sign four of his key players.

Third Baseman Ken Keltner and Fireball Hurler Bob Feller are the latest to shy away from wet ink on a contract. Others objecting to terms are Pitchers Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon, who with Detroit's Hal Newhouse were the only 20-game winners in the American league last season.

"I expected this," Veeck said, "but I really don't look for any serious trouble. I've gone through this before, you know. Trying to sign players after they won a championship, I mean."

"I'm sure they'll come around because they know in the end they'll be well taken care of. They were last year and they know that they will be again. I'm not worrying about them."

It's a matter of personal pride with Veeck that he never has had any serious holdout trouble with any player.

Feller and Veeck conferred for an hour and a half at the stadium offices yesterday afternoon but were unable to agree on a bonus clause based on home attendance.

The two plan to meet again Feb. 6 in New York, where they are to attend a baseball writers' banquet. If Feller agrees to terms at that time, he probably will sign the contract here a day or two later.

Keltner called Veeck yesterday from Milwaukee and is believed to have asked for a slightly better offer. Veeck told Keltner he would confer with him in Milwaukee Feb. 14.

Bearden is believed to be holding out for $20,000, an increase of several thousand more than he was offered.

Veeck has received no word from Lemon since his contract was mailed to him for the second time last week. Lemon had returned it unsigned.

The Feller-Veeck conference ended in an atmosphere of extreme politeness.

45 Entries To Date In 'Stique Ski Meet

Manistique, Jan. 27. — Forty-five riders from Iron Mountain, Ishpeming, Marquette, Gladstone and Caspian in all four divisions have entered the Manistique Ski club's annual jumping classic set for next Sunday afternoon.

More riders are expected from Ironwood and Houghton Tech. A real bang up jumping contest is

Tigers Look Good Signing Contracts

Detroit, Jan. 27 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, who finished fifth in last year's American league pennant race, are up among the leaders this winter in whipping together their roster for the start of spring training March 1.

With more than a month to go before opening camp under Manager Robert (Red) Rolfe in Lakeland, Fla., the Tigers today counted 20 players signed for the 1949 season. The training camp squad will number about 38.

Latest to agree to terms was Outfielder Dick Wakefield, who came in yesterday from Ann Arbor, where he just completed his undergraduate work at the University of Michigan, and brought his signed contract with him.

Although no announcement was made regarding Wakefield's salary, it was assumed he accepted the maximum 25 per cent cut and signed for approximately $20,000.

Last year in 110 games Dick batted .276, a mark far below the .355 he hit in 1944 after he returned from the Navy in mid-season. He hasn't approached that figure since and his salary, dwindling with his batting average, now is only about half his peak earnings of 1946, estimated then at $37,500.

Heitschmidt Signs With N. Y. Giants

Chicago, Jan. 27 (AP)—Ted J. Heitschmidt, 18, former Morgan Park Military Academy and University of Michigan freshman pitcher, has received a $20,000 bonus to sign a contract with the New York Giants.

The six-foot, two inch, 200 pound youngster, a right handed ball pitcher, said yesterday he had been ordered to report to the Giants at their Phoenix, Ariz., training camp Feb. 23. He is the son of Robert Heitschmidt, who was with the Washington Senators 20 years ago.

Fight Managers Want More Television Money

New York, Jan. 27. (AP)—Fight managers, alarmed by slumping gate receipts, want more cash from television when current contracts expire.

"We didn't know anything about television when we signed up last year," said Charley Johnston, president of the Boxing Managers' Guild. "Since then we've learned plenty. We have the talent and they have to come to us, no matter what deal they make with the promoters."

"Don't get us wrong. We are all for television. But we want to get paid our share."

That's hardly a novel stand by a fight manager.

"We don't know how much we'll ask," said Johnston, one of the old school of managers, "but it will be more than last year."

When the managers and the 20th Century Sporting club could not get together last spring, there were no fights in the Garden or St. Nicholas Arena for six weeks as the result of a strike.

"I figure television cuts the big shows about 40 per cent," Johnston added. "Our guild—that's the definitely assured and winter sports fans can expect a lot of tough competition in the various classes.

Manistique has seven riders who will compete. Jumping for the local club will be: Class C, Paul Vezina and John Quick; Class B, Lawrence Rubick, Ted Hentschell, Dick Harbick, Bob Rozich and Tony Weber.

This will be the first competition this season for the local team due to the fact that snow conditions have been unfavorable, but the last several days there has been plenty of activity on the Jamestown scaffold and some excellent distance has been obtained.

The Manistique entries should carry away a share of the honors Sunday. Last season in Class C, Paul Vezina placed high at St. Paul, Ironwood and Iron Mountain. He is eligible to compete in the U. S. National Ski Meet at Salt Lake City Feb. 20. In Class B, Lawrence Rubick and Ted Hentschell are outstanding and except for hard luck last season they would have placed high at Ishpeming and Iron Mountain.

Joe Dimaggio Wants A Straight Salary

New York, Jan. 27. (AP)—Joe Dimaggio was reported today to have turned down a $10,000 raise from the New York Yankees and to be seeking a contract that would make him the highest paid player in baseball history.

The contract offered Dimaggio reportedly called for $65,000 in basic salary, compared to $55,000 a year ago, and a bonus if the Yankees' home attendance exceeds 1,500,000. Last year the Yanks drew 2,400,000 and Dimaggio drew a $15,000 bonus making his aggregate pay for 1948, $70,000.

Joltin' Joe was represented as opposed to the bonus arrangement. He is understood to prefer a higher straight salary and a two-year or longer contract.

Rangers Hand Wings First Loss In 8 Tilts

Detroit, Jan. 27 (AP) — Good marksmanship around one net and expert goal tending at the other enabled the New York Rangers to put an end to two remarkable streaks with a 5 to 1 National Hockey league victory last night over the Detroit Red Wings.

The Rangers, playing opportunistic hockey to cash in five of only 18 shots they put on goal, handed the Red Wings their first defeat in eight straight games.

With Girard setting the pace, the Packers fought back to tie it at 47-all, 49-all, 53-all and 55-all in a rousing fourth quarter, and by mutual agreement, with the impetus supplied by the Packers, the quarter ended 57-all, with the locals winning handily in the overtime.

We said it was all in fun. It was, except for a last-minute time mix-up that say Tony Canadeo, Ken Kuiper and even clowding Ted Fritsch come storming over to the officials' bench with fire in their eyes.

They thought they'd been taken for a ride. But they hadn't.

Here's The Story

Here's what happened. Canadeo sitting close to the timekeeper, had made arrangements for two minutes extra for the Packers' closing show with a football, he to go in on the horn when the official game ended.

Seconds before the game ended, Gauthier made it 57-55, and a split second after the official time ended, Luhn made a shot that apparently tied it at 57-all. The timekeeper said: "No, the game is ended." Whereupon, some Packers became vehement and threatened to storm off the floor.

Referee Dick Schram's explanation and the Hardwares' offer to let it go at 57-all finally resulted in a lull, and the show went on.

An Anti-Climax

Escanaba scored eight to three for Green Bay in the overtime; Ted Fritsch placekicked, Canadeo ran with the ball, Girard passed to Luhn for a touchdown, and the show was over. It was an anticlimax.

So you can call it either 57-55 or 65-60 in the overtime. The Packers were outclassed, but they were full of fun and put on a good show until they got beat.

In the preliminary, Bill Courneen scored 12 points to pace Wait Window to a 29-27 win over Cloverland. Elroy Zimmerman scored 13 for the Collegians, who

New Year's Train Robbery Rich Haul For Chinese Bandits

Hong Kong, Jan. 27 (AP)—Chinese bandits made a rich haul today when they robbed a train load of New Year's travelers near Canton.

Authorities estimated their loot at thousands of Hong Kong dollars. (The Hong Kong dollar is worth 50 cents U. S.) the Chinese were laden with valuables. They usually pay their debts at the New Year, which is Jan. 29.

One gendarme was killed and 20 passengers were roughed up by the bandits. Six gunmen boarded the Kowloon - Canton train as passengers and forced the engineer to stop it 10 miles from Canton. There 40 other bandits joined them in looting the train.

Clay Sees No Letup In Soviet Cold War

Berlin, Jan. 27 (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor in Germany, says he sees no evidence in Germany that Russia is softening its cold war campaign against the west.

He was asked to comment at a news conference yesterday on recent statement by Communist leaders in Italy and France denoting a milder Communist attitude. Some quarters have interpreted the statements as the start of a Soviet "peace offensive."

The U. S. military government meanwhile began tightening its counter-blockade of the Soviet section of Berlin, adding 19 items to the list of goods which may not be sent into the Soviet area.

Threats also were voiced to prosecute Berliners who get ration cards in both eastern and western Berlin and sell food surpluses in the black market.

Marines Cut Down Forces In China

Shanghai, Jan. 27. (AP)—Vice Adm. Oscar C. Badger, U. S. Western Pacific commander, said today some Marines soon would be withdrawn from China but emphasized enough would be retained to meet any emergency.

He told a news conference that the present number in China (about 3,000 at Tsingtao and 600 at Shanghai) was more than is needed.

Badger said the Tsingtao Marines "to some extent" are now being withdrawn from shore billets and placed on floating billets. He added "It is foolish to maintain that many aboard ship, those we don't need would be better off at Guam and other shore bases."

Ohio River Moves Near Flood Stage; More Rain Coming

Cincinnati, Jan. 27 (AP)—The steadily-rising Ohio river moved within six feet of flood stage here early today but the U. S. Weather Bureau declined to predict a possible crest.

The 3 a. m. stage was 46 feet, rising slightly more than one-tenth of a foot an hour. Flood stage is 52 feet.

U. S. Meteorologist J. Cecil Alter said an immediate crest prediction could not be made because of continued rain, forecast for today.

The river passed flood stage by more than five feet yesterday from Evansville, Ind., to Cairo, Ill., at the mouth of the stream.

Good Bird Dogs Acclaimed Aids In Conservation

Urbana, Ill. (SS)—Well-trained bird dogs are recommended as game-savers by Dr. Ralph E. Yeater of the Illinois Natural History Survey in a new publication, Bird Dogs in Sport and Conservation.

Their value is realized in two ways, Dr. Yeater points out. The first is direct and obvious; hunters served by good retrievers capture crippled birds, quickly end their suffering and add them to their legitimate bags. On the other hand, cripples often elude hunters without dogs and hide out while they slowly die; in the meantime the hunters go on and shoot other birds to complete their bags, since the cripples do not "count."

The second use of bird dogs in conservation is as aids to wildlife researchers. A wildlife man, however experienced, can make a better survey of a given nesting area if he has the assistance of the keener finding senses of a first-class pointer or setter.

Approximately one-fifth of the 30,000,000 school children in the United States have defective vision.

Judge Medina Cracks Whip On Communists

By S. BURTON HEATH
New York, (NEA)—The nation's 11 top Communists scoured the United States to get lawyers who are clever at making public circus out of criminal trials. That array of eminent barristers set out, with all their skill, to break up the trial of their clients in Federal District Court.

But both lay and legal observers have a feeling that the Reds' counsel has met its match in a dapper, jovial chap named Harold R. Medina—newest judge on the Federal bench in the New York district. Presumably by the luck of the draw, he is presiding over what may prove one of the most famous trials in court history—the "conspiracy to overthrow" case against the big-wigs of U. S. Communism.

Judges of American courts seldom impress their personalities permanently on public consciousness. Maybe Harold Medina will be forgotten soon. But his friends think that already he has demonstrated a courtroom personality that will project itself even above the vituperative uproar that defense counsel are creating.

In the trial preliminaries Judge Medina's usually good-natured remarks have been getting better news than the calculated histrionics of such actors as Harry Sacher of New York, Richard Gladstein of San Francisco, Louis F. McCabe of Philadelphia.

Thus far Medina has given defense counsel full opportunity to state and argue their objections to the trial, the jury panel, the judge, the police, the indictment and a lot of other things. He has shown great patience. But he has shown ability to crack down when he sees fit.

"That's the most absurd thing I ever heard of," he told Gladstein after one argument.

"I don't like that crack," he remarked colloquially on another occasion. "I'm going to decide these motions as best I can with the light God gave me."

And once, when he felt that the Reds' counsel was going too far, Judge Medina's cheeks paled and he said sharply:

"Don't you think it might be well to defer to the court's wishes in this matter? I don't want to be unpleasant."

To the amazement of those familiar with the lawyers he addressed, they shut up.

Medina has been on the bench only 18 months, after a long career as trial lawyer, teacher and reformer. Born in Brooklyn, he will be 61 on Feb. 16. He is just under six feet, well built but not heavy, dapper in a conservative way, quick spoken and always ready for a joke or a gag.

In the trial preliminaries the Reds' lawyers showered invective on everything connected with this trial, in an attempt to have it called off or postponed. For the most part, Judge Medina has preserved a half-bored, half-fatherly attitude. He has denied every filibustering motion but refused to be goaded into words or actions that might be used to convince appeals courts that the trial was prejudiced.

This is not a spectacle," he remarked at one time. "This is a trial of law." In spite of all the shouting and gesticulating, the tear-streaming eyes, the bitter words, thus far the trial has been less of a circus than most observers expected it would be made.

Defense counsel protested vigorously the guard of some 400 cops thrown around the Court House and vicinity by the City, and defended the right of Communists and sympathizers to picket the building. Medina told them:

"I don't intend to fight my way through a crowd of booing and hissing individuals without some police protection."

After listening to long arguments against the method by which jury panels are selected, the judge remarked:

"Any exclusion of any class or race would shock me."

When a lawyer asked "How does it happen that you never heard of these things?" Judge Medina grinned and said: "I guess it must have been a conspiracy."

One lawyer thought he had the judge in a hole. He recalled that once, as an attorney, Medina argued before the Supreme Court against the jury-selecting system the Reds are attacking. "I thought you were a starry-eyed reformer, filled with zeal against an unjust system," another defense lawyer chimed in.

"You know," Medina retorted amiably but firmly, "I got licked in that case."

HANNAGAN QUILTS BASEBALL
St. Louis, Jan. 27 (AP)—Robert E. Hannagan, former postmaster general, sold his interest in the St. Louis Cardinals today to his partner, Fred M. Saigh, jr. Hannagan told a press conference that he is getting out of baseball on orders from his physician.

HOCKEY REFEREEING
Boston, Jan. 27 (AP)—National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell insists the standard of refereeing in the circuit is the best he has seen in years. In a conference with hockey writers last night Campbell defended the loop's officials against printed criticism the referees were allowing too much rough hockey.

Judge Harold F. Medina: "I don't want to be unpleasant."

ENGLISH DOGS GOING HUNGRY

Austerity Diet Is Felt By Canines

London, (SS)—England's austerity diet is not only putting its pinch on the people; it is hard on the dogs as well, reports A. Stewart Rich, founder of the London Animal Hospital. As a result of their impoverished diet, English dogs now require nearly double the veterinary care they received before the war.

Effects of dietary deficiency are especially noted in dog breeding. Mr. Rich reports. Puppies have a hard time getting born, due to their mothers' poor condition; and after they are born she is often unable to produce milk enough to nurse them.

Bone formation is poor, and rate of growth is retarded as much as 25 per cent during the first 10 weeks of puppyhood. Fifty per cent of the puppies treated at the hospital have been under weight, as compared with only 10 per cent or 15 per cent in prewar days.

Among ailments now prominent among dogs are rickets, slow convalescence after illness, slow healing of broken bones and skin troubles. The latter group of diseases attack well over a third of all dogs brought to the hospital.

A new disease has also appeared. It is known by the technical name of beta-hemolytic streptococcus, and it has caused greater mortality in English kennels than any other disease. Death rate exceeds that from distemper.

Dog food is sold on a quota basis, and the problem of getting enough is a difficult one for dog owners. When meal or dog biscuit is in short supply, it is mixed with potatoes or some other unsatisfactory substitute.

Panama Has Wave Of Yellow Fever

Washington (SS)—Public health officials here might be "a lot more worried" about the current yellow fever outbreak in Panama if it had occurred in August instead of January.

The disease, which at latest reports has killed six of its eight victims in the small town of Pacora, is carried by Aedes mosquitoes. We have plenty of them in this country. In the summer they extend as far north as a line running from Philadelphia to Los Angeles. But in the winter the Aedes boundary line is the Gulf Coast and Florida. It would be easier to fight them in this small region if they picked up the infection than in midsummer when they extend so much farther.

The yellow fever mosquitoes in Panama nest in the tops of trees. Health authorities here believe the victims were woodcutters who got infected from mosquitoes they brought down as they were felling trees. A reservoir of the infection exists in monkeys and the tree-nesting mosquitoes get it from them.

Mitchum's Partner In Marijuana Case Is Arrested Again

Hollywood, Jan. 27 (AP)—Robin Ford, 31, convicted with Robert Mitchum on narcotics charges, is under arrest today on another marijuana booking.

He was arrested last night near a Sunset Strip night club. Detective Sgt. J. E. Barrick said the real estate agent had a marijuana cigaret in his hip pocket. He was booked on suspicion of narcotics.

Ford, Actor Mitchum and Actress Lila Leeds were convicted Jan. 10 of conspiracy to possess narcotics. They are awaiting probation hearings and sentence.

Wages And Living Costs Keep U. S. Lawmakers Busy

fit regardless of which passes. All call for public housing, slum clearance, farm homes and research to cut building costs. They differ on public housing.

A Senate bill calls for 600,000 public housing units in six years, the House 810,000 in the same period. Republicans argue their measure would not cost the government as much money as the administration proposal, and at the same time encourage private construction.

The House Veterans Affairs committee turned its spotlight on the pension proposal.

Cost In Billions
Some 18,000,000 veterans of World Wars I and II would be eligible—about 3,500,000 of them within the next 10 years—for $60 a month pension at the age of 60. The bill also provides additional disability pay ranging from $20 to $120 a month. The plan would cost the government billions of dollars. The lowest estimate is 15 billion, the highest 40.

Democrats pushed for speedy Senate action on the first part of President Truman's anti-inflation program—a temporary seven-month extension of voluntary controls over scarce commodities. Republicans want to extend the bill 13 months, but yesterday lost the first round of arguments when the Senate banking committee voted them down 8 to 2. The administration hopes later to seek mandatory controls. The GOP is against that.

On the labor front, a bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act and replace it with new labor legislation is about ready for Congress. It should be delivered to Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) by nightfall. But it faces tough sledding—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) says he is set to introduce other measures designed to block repeal of the controversial act.

In both House and Senate, veteran Republican leaders prepared to make room in party councils for self-styled Progressives. Party huddles were called to study a resolution disbanding the old steering committee and substituting a new policy committee based on geographical representation. It would ignore traditional rule of seniority, but approval seemed sure.

Moscow Has Huge U. S. Fifth Column, Lt. Gen. Eaker Says

Los Angeles, Jan. 27 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker says Russia has a huge war potential and a fifth column in this country that is "the biggest and most powerful of any place in the world."

The wartime chief of air staff, now retired and living in Beverly Hills, told the Kiwanis club yesterday that "more Moscow money is being lavished to undermine the American government than was used in China."

With America's eight-hour, five-day week and 140,000,000 population, it would be difficult to build as much war potential as Russia could with 180,000,000 population, working 15 hours six days a week, he said.

"This country," he continued, "should have a sound plan of campaign ready. We would need an overwhelming air power, supplemented by adequate ground and naval forces, and we also would require better trained leadership than we had in the last war."

normal in California, and most of the south had mild temperatures. The country's highest reading was 80 at Jacksonville, Fla.

In the western storm area more funds were available for the big relief job and further allocations were expected. President Truman made another $200,000 available to help relieve suffering in the blizzard-swept states. Earlier he had allocated $100,000. An appropriation of $750,000 for the seven states affected is expected to receive favorable action in congress. The states affected are Nevada, Utah, South Dakota, Wyoming, Nebraska, Montana and Colorado.

Five air force planes planned to drop supplies and livestock feed today in the remote Navajo mountain region of northern Arizona, where 15 persons were reported missing. Most of the estimated 2,500 Navajos in the area were reported in no danger.

Cold weather put heavy demands on natural gas in northern

Utah and some 36 public schools were closed because of the shortage.

RETIRED ADMIRAL DIES
Washington, Jan. 27 (AP)—Admiral David Foote Sellers, former commander in chief of the fleet, died today. He was 74.

The navy announced that he died of a cerebral hemorrhage at the Bethesda, Md., medical center. He had been retired since 1938.

Highest point on the Lincoln highway is Sherman Hill, Wyo., which has an elevation of about 8335 feet above sea level.
